

HEINLEIN GENEALOGY

Pittsburgh Then and Now: Pittsburgh International Airport

On Oct. 1, 1992, the new midfield terminal opened. It consisted of two main buildings; a landside terminal for security, ground transportation and baggage handling and an airside building for passenger gates.

Like its predecessor, the new airside terminal included an Alexander Calder mobile above the main concourse.