Pittsburgh International Airport

In April 2019, British Airways resumed nonstop service to Heathrow Airport from Pittsburgh.^[51] The route was suspended during the COVID-19 pandemic, and after repeated delays there was speculation that it would never return, but in December 2021 British Airways announced that the route would resume in June 2022.

Future

In September 2017, Allegheny County Airport Authority officials announced a $1.1 billion plan to renovate and reconfigure the terminal complex, including a new landside terminal and a new parking garage. Under the proposal, the current landside building would be demolished if another use is not found, and the number of gates would be reduced from 75 to 51. A new landside building would be constructed between the airside terminal's concourses C and D, with new security and baggage facilities, a new international arrivals area, and many other amenities to serve passengers.
