In 1923 Mike and his brother Harry started Heinlein Brothers Building Co. Together they built over 100 homes in Coraopolis, Neville Island and Sewickley. The partnership dissolved in 1929. Mike then moved to Moon Township on Beaver Grade Road and built the Coraopolis Heights Golf Course, opening in 1930. This was in operation for one year and then sold. Mike bought the McCormick farm which was made into a nine hole golf course, opening June 15, 1932. In 1937 he built nine more holes to complete an 18 hole golf course Bon Air.

In 1954, partially retired, his sons Herb and Harold took over the course. In 1964, he was instrumental with the two boys in opening up the Ponderosa Golf Course.
