Richard Eric Johnson

Born 30 June 1930, Richard had a full life. He went to college at Duquesne University and then graduated from the Ohio Northern University School of Pharmacy in 1952. In the Army, he served as a pharmacy technician in Germany. Afterwards, he went to graduate school at the University of Pittsburgh. It was there that he met his future wife, Eileen Anne Sullivan. The couple married in 1959 and four children were born from their union: Kelly M., Jay Richard, Joel, and Brian. His children have seven children of their own. Over the course of his life, he published more than 70 articles and helped develop an automated refill pharmacy program, among other things.
