W. $b=n$ in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them asswme ainong the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect (rankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these traths to be self-evident, that all men that they are endowed hy their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the parswit of Happiness. That to secure verwments afre instituted among Men, deriving the ir jwst powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive 3. it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Governmend, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers boutged for as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be selves by abolishing the forms causes; and accordingly all experience bath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right them-解 reduce then under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off swch Govermment, and to provide new Guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The bistory of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyramy over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world. He has refused bis Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for public good. He has forbidden bis Governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended. he bas utterly roat attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish intation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only. He has called together legislative bodies at places umle, ard distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has refused for a long time, after

He has endeavoured to prevent the population subject us 10 a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation: For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us: For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from panishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States: For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world: For imposing Taxes on as without owr Consent: For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury: For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences: For abolisbing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Bowndaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colowies: For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments: For suspending our own Legislatures and declaring themselves invested with powertolegislate for us in all cases whatsoever. He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of His Protection and

Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people. No have We been wanting in attention to our Brittish brethren. We have warmed them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdictio over us. We bave reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we bave co jured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have be deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we bold the rest mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

WE, THEREFORE, the Representatives of the UNITED STATES of AMERICA, in General Congress. Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Co are, and of Right ought to be, FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political conmectin between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and do. AND for the support of this Decla a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.

Our Declaration of Independence is reproduced by Mt. Lebanon Federal in celebration of our country's 200 th birthday.
